NEBRASKA SPELLS "SPORTSMANSHIP"

The University of Nebraska is known and respected all over the nation for its red-attired fans, as well as its football teams.

Nebraska fans also have a nationwide reputation for good sportsmanship, at home and away.

"Big League"—that's the way Nebraska teams and fans have acquitted themselves in past seasons, and that's the same goal for 1978.

The University of Nebraska urges all 1978 fans to continue this fine tradition of sportsmanship by extending courtesy to the visiting teams and officials.

All of us on the Cornhusker Staff salute our fans as the greatest in the nation and thank you for your support and sportsmanship.

Yours for Nebraska,

'78 Home Opener Pits Huskers Against Visiting Cal-Berkeley

Rebound, although usually a basketball term, is just what Tom Osborne's Nebraska Cornhuskers hope to do this afternoon against the University of California-Berkeley Bears, under first year head coach Roger Theder.

Last Saturday night at Birmingham, the Huskers lost to No. 1 ranked Alabama, 20-3. In that contest, Cornhusker defensive end George Andrews was named the ABC-TV Defensive Player of the Game for his 19 tackles, including 15 unassisted.

Offensively, Nebraska was paced by its kicking game, as Billy Todd successfully booted a 48-yard field goal and Tim Smith punted eight times for 327 yards, an impressive 40.9 average.

Osborne, now in his sixth year as head coach of the Huskers, is 46-14-2, for a winning percentage of .758.

Today's battle is the season opener for Cal, a team that in 1977 was 7-4 overall and 3-4 in the Pacific 8 (fifth place tie). Last season, the Bears beat Tennessee, Air Force, Missouri and San Jose State in nonleague play, and also beat arch rival Southern California in Pac 8 action.

Cal returns 39 lettermen, 20 on offense and 19 on defense, and 13 starters, five on offense and eight on defense.

The Blue and Gold offensive leaders in 1978 are seniors, quarterback Gary Graumann and guard Duke Leffler, junior fullback Paul Jones and sophomore wide receiver Floyd Eddings.

Defensively, the Bears are paced by senior end Ralph DeLoach. In 1977 DeLoach earned first team All Pac 8 honors and third team All American mention.

Although new as Cal's coach, Theder is very familiar with the Bears' system. For the last six years, he has been the offensive coordinator at Cal-Berkeley.

This afternoon's clash is the first meeting between Nebraska and California-Berkeley.

Computer manages buildings' energy

The goal of fuel conservation has encouraged the University of Nebraska-Lincoln to invest in a new computerized energy management system.

Although using a computer to turn heating and cooling fans on and off in campus buildings has been used in 16 campus buildings since 1969, the new Optimal Start Time program allows fans to be turned on and off in different buildings at different times.

"If Building A needs an hour to warm to the required temperatures and Building B only 15 minutes to reach the same temperature, why run the fan in Building B the extra 45 minutes and waste that much energy?" asks Jim Hines, UNL energy conservation officer.

That question—why treat all buildings the same when they have different heating and cooling requirements—is the premise of UNL's Optimal Start Time program, which was made possible by the new computer's capacity.

With a yearly energy bill which Hines estimates at about $3.4 million, UNL has good reason to be concerned about its energy efficiency. Housed at the Physical Plant at 1700 Y St., the new computer system cost $156,000 and uses a great deal of the equipment already in campus buildings installed in 1969 at a cost of $500,000.

Ideally, if energy prices remained constant, the system would pay for itself in three to four years in reduced energy costs, according to Hines. Because energy costs continue to climb, however, it is likely that UNL energy bills could still take the same number of dollars.

"Yet without the energy saving measures now being taken, the cost would be even higher," Hines said.

"Computerization is the most effective way to monitor the University's 100-plus buildings," Hines said.

With 14 buildings now hooked to the new computer, the University hopes to periodically appropriate money to add more buildings to the system.

Band Alumni perform

The fifth annual meeting of the UNL Band Alumni Association is being held this weekend.

A dinner-dance at the Villager started things off Friday night. A breakfast business meeting was held this morning at the Nebraska Union.

Following this morning's meeting, band alumni held marching practice for performances during today's pre-game, half-time, and post-game shows.

Everyone who ever played with any UNL band can participate in Band Alumni activities.

College of the Day: Architecture

Serving humanity an architect's goal

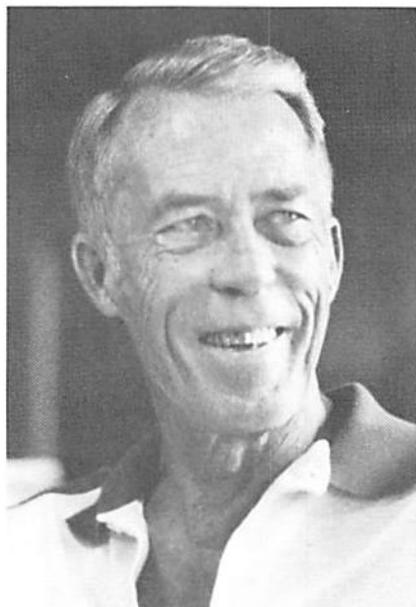

"In essence we're trying to turn out very competent and understanding architects as well as sympathetic and appreciative human beings."

University of Nebraska-Lincoln architecture professor Jim Porter has seen that goal evolve during his 30 years in the profession. "The quality of students has improved tremendously. They are much more intelligent, capable. Their design potential, academic background and analytical reasoning are getting better each year.

"I think my major criticism of a generation ago was its narrow focus on professional talents and skills. Now our curriculum provides a more well-rounded education. Professionally it should improve our students' capacity to serve humanity."

Soon after earning his Bachelor of Science degree, Porter joined the staff at UNL, in 1948. He concentrates his enthusiasm on teaching, with occasional structural design consulting. He maintains a limited professional practice covering a "wide variety of small projects."

At UNL architecture education includes lectures, projects and research. Porter says the students bring together basic skills and theories into a context of a design in their studio work.

"Some students have a rather fixed philosophy rather early," he says. "You can try to change that by example, by illustration, by criticism. Instead of crystallizing those ideas so early, we try to expose them to a variety of options."

Students also have opportunities to pick up ideas on an international level. This year they may spend a term in London, or participate in a program in Guadalajara, Mexico.

Often Porter encourages individuals to pursue some detailed aspect of study in a special projects course. Many have chosen projects dealing with wind, tidal and solar energy.

Underlying all architectural study, he says, remains a very strongly emphasized artistic perspective. Porter says it's a sign of traditional training and not any dismissal of the practical aspects of design.

Porter says architecture is no longer a one-man operation. "Most buildings are a group effort, each contributing according to his expertise. There's plenty of room for generalists and specialists, the experienced and the relatively inexperienced.

"One of our major emphases is the studio experience which we think will give students a complete experience . . . research, analysis, programming, synthesis and presentation.

All the technical advancements come down to this:

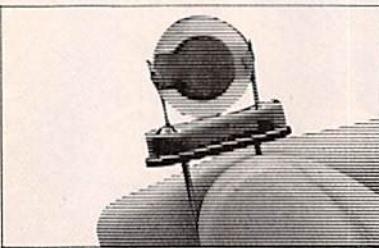

Getting the color right, automatically. That's what the 1979 ColorTrak is all about.

Last year RCA sold more color televisions than any other year in their history.

One reason is the ColorTrak System—a remarkable achievement that's been made even more remarkable for 1979. This year, ColorTrak grabs the color, aligns it, defines it, sharpens it, tones it and locks it on track more automatically than ever before.

Fine tunes every channel, automatically.

The 1979 ColorTrak is the most automatic color set in RCA history. It's made to bring you natural, lifelike color—the right color—without bothersome adjustment and fine tuning. In fact, ColorTrak's new quartz crystal ChanneLock Tuner is so accurate you'll never have to fine tune a channel again. Ever.

RCA's new ChanneLock Tuner uses a vibrating quartz crystal to locate and lock on to each TV channel. This precision device completely eliminates the need for fine tuning.

Adjusts for varying colors, automatically.

You've probably noticed how colors can change when a commercial or new program appears. ColorTrak deals with that problem two ways: Automatic Color Control continuously monitors color and adjusts it automatically. Colors stay consistent from scene to scene, program to program, channel to channel.

In addition, ColorTrak is equipped with Dynamic Fleshtone Correction that automatically keeps fleshtones warm and natural, for a consistently lifelike color picture.

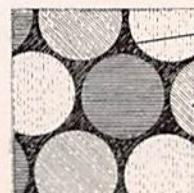

Adjusts for changing room conditions, automatically.

A color picture that looks fine when your TV room is dark may appear too dim when you turn on the lights or open shades.

ColorTrak's Room Light Sensor helps overcome this by automatically making the picture brighter. Colors stay rich and vivid.

To help even further, our black matrix picture tube has specially tinted phosphors. They actually absorb reflected room light, to reduce glare on the screen.

A black matrix on the tube helps absorb reflected room light.

ColorTrak also has specially tinted phosphors that absorb additional room light to reduce glaring reflections.

Experience the 1979 ColorTrak at your RCA Dealer now.

There are many other features that contribute to the magnificent RCA ColorTrak picture.

But all the features and technical advancements really come down to this: RCA wants you to see the right color. On every program. On every channel. Every time you turn on your set.

For the complete line of ColorTrak models, write to: RCA Consumer Electronics, Dept. 27-212, 600 North Sherman Dr., Indianapolis, Ind. 46201.

Clap Your Hands You Fans In The Stands. Stand Up and Cheer For The Cookbook of the Year.

Hooray! Souffle! Whoop-Tee-Doo! Campers Stew!
Give A Yell, Give A Shout, Bring The Big Red Cake On Out!

They're CHEERING and chuckling in 50 states and 9 foreign countries over a cookbook filled with choice, easy recipes---and more. This WINNING FORMATION of "better batter and things that matter" wasn't put together by li'l ol' ladies in tennis shoes punching holes and tying yarn---it was put together by a TEAM of GAME gals who wanted to do something personal to help pay for nearly $800,000 tornado damage to First United Methodist Church, Omaha. We've made it easy and fun for you to nourish your body or (if you've a mind to) your mind, too!

Laughter in Every Chapter

All 13 chapters will brighten your menus, your days, your outlook. Here's a taste:

- IN THE BEGINNING (Appetizers and Salads) If you park miles from the STADIUM, try the Walking Salad.
- MAN DOES NOT LIVE BY BREAD ALONE (Casseroles) Ever had pineapple casserole? Don't say "Yuk!" It's almost as good as beating Oklahoma!
- ALL GOD'S CHILLUN' GOT A HOLLOW LEG (For and by kids) Things to munch like Crazy Crunch; lotsa snacks for hikers' packs. ALL TOGETHER NOW: Give a YELL (oh!) for Finger Jello!
- LEAD US NOT INTO TEMPTATION - Recipes for that sin-sible part of the meal. (Oh, Lord! What's the PENALTY for a second helping?)
- NEGLECT NOT THY BODY (Diet and Nutrition) There's help for your shoddy body.
- FEEDING THE MULTITUDES (Quantity Cooking) Ideas for tailgate parties or other big HUDDLES. How about slaw for 1400?
- MODERN MIRACLES - Fast fixin's and new tricks in microwave cooking.
- REVELATIONS (the last chapter) You'll pause for guffaws when reading blunders revealed by brides and first-time cooks; reflections by the father of the bride and father of the groom to tug at heart-strings.

SHOW THIS AD TO YOUR FAVORITE COOK; BETTER YET, SPLURGE AND SEND FOR THE BOOK!

ATTENTION: MEN AND NON-COOKS

You don't have to cook to like this book! Even if you've never taken thyme with rosemary (those are spices!!), you'll get a KICK out of this book fit for MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD! We'll even COACH you on how to best serve Tom (turkey, not Osborne!)

WHY IS THIS COOKBOOK LIKE A FOOTBALL PLAYER?

ANSWER: Because it has pockets, a strong full back (a full front, too), many options, it stands up, lies flat and (praise be!) it has a washable cover!

DON'T BE LEFT ON THE SIDELINES

Don't PASS it up! MY CUP RUNNETH OVER is the "last HURRAH!" in HURRAH!

HOW TO WIN THE TOSS.

Our fluid-support mattress floats you to sleep. Unlike the flat, unyielding surface of a spring bed, our Land and Sky mattress is alive to your body. It conforms to the small of your back, the crook of your neck and the back of your knees so you sleep without restless tossing.

In Lincoln, we have 2 handsome stores where we offer complete floatation sleep systems, plus everything beautiful to enhance your bedroom environment. We have our own Interior Decorator to confer with you, and our sales people know the Land and Sky product fully so they can answer any questions you may have.

Come in and choose the floatation system that fits your personal sleep-style. Then rest easy. You won the toss.

Just a spot in the road . . .

BUT WHAT A SPOT!

We're not even easy to find on a map . . . most people hear about us first from friends, neighbors or through our extensive advertising, yet even after that, they can't believe what they see when they enter our lush 3 acres of Total Home Furnishings. It's not too surprising, when you consider this beehive of activity is plunked down right in the middle of nowhere, yet contains two large roll carpet showrooms, a complete Bedding display, total departments in Appliances and Television (including Wanek's own service department with expert personnel to handle your every need) huge rooms filled with Living Room, Bedroom, Dining Room and Dinette displays . . . plus an elegant Showcase of 45 individual rooms, each totally decorated right down to the ashtrays. Wanek's country setting also means lower overhead, couple that with our immense volume buying and selling and you have some pretty important reasons why the best brands in America cost you less at Wanek's. We may be only a spot on the map . . . but it's a spot that can change your way of living . . . and we're still working to make you even happier. So come in and see us soon.

The New Chevrolet

Spectacular beauty, plenty of room, a pleasure to drive. And more.

We would not insult your intelligence by suggesting that you'd buy a car simply because it's beautiful.

But what if that beautiful car were also beautifully built, remarkably roomy inside, and a genuine pleasure to drive?

Now we're talking your language.

The New Chevrolet is a thoroughly contemporary automobile built around a roomy 6-passenger interior.

It comes as a pleasant surprise to most people that this trimmer car actually has more head room and more rear seat leg room inside than the 1976 full-size Chevrolet it replaced. It also has a bigger trunk. More corrosion fighters. And more ease of entry and exit.

More than 600,000 people bought The New Chevrolet (Caprice and Impala) during its very first year on the market, making The New Chevrolet the most popular car in America.

It isn't just the beauty. But it sure doesn't hurt.

You're invited to visit the Chevrolet football exhibit at the new College Hall of Fame at King's Island (25 miles north of Cincinnati). This unique museum lets you participate in the fascinating history of college football. See it soon.

The Caprice Classic Sedan

Now that's more like it.

Cornhusker Wheel Club 1978

Automobile dealers in Nebraska are contributing a large measure of help to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of the Cornhusker booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds.

These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "team" that includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, Husker Educational Award group, Touchdown Club, Extra Point Club, Beef Club and the courtesy car program.

The Kodak All-America Team

It's one of the oldest and smallest teams in college football. It doesn't have a win-loss record. It doesn't set rushing records, and it has never scored a touchdown. Yet, at the end of the 1978 season, the Kodak All-America Team will be the number one team in college football.

What this team will have is the 22 very best players of the season. Twenty-two men who have earned the right to be called All-American. No amount of popularity or publicity can put a player on this team if he doesn't deserve to be there. It is a distinction which is earned with outstanding ability, sportsmanship and leadership. And these players have to prove themselves to the toughest coaches of all, the American Football Coaches Association.

The Kodak All-America Team is the only team which represents the choice of the more than 2,000 college and university coaches who are the American Football Coaches Association. Their standards are exacting, for this is a team that for 89 years has included the greatest names in college football.

The 1978 Kodak All-America Team has yet to be selected. The field is large, for there are more than 12,000 players from which to choose. But when the season ends, a handful of men will have distinguished themselves, and earned the honor of being on the number one team in college football.

College of the Day: Architecture

Participatory design: building for people

By Sharon Behl
Graduate Assistant
Office of University Information

Young designers in the University of Nebraska-Lincoln College of Architecture are discovering ways to make it easier for everyone to move in, around and through their daily environment. To do it they are eliminating pesky barriers which can handicap anyone.

In "participatory design," students literally follow in someone else's tracks. They learn what that person wants and needs from the space in which he works and lives.

This spring, twelve young designers made tracks around Lincoln, discovering for themselves how they can be "environmentally handicapped" by narrow passages, steps and backdoor entrances.

First, class members read up on the problems of inaccessible buildings and travel ways. Feeling fairly sure they knew what they were getting into, they set out via wheelchairs for some first-hand experience.

Within about a half a block of campus almost everyone began having doubts. Professor Jay Garrott, project supervisor, said most of the students "felt very inadequate." They found out they didn't know as much as they thought they did about barriers, not just the physical ones like the icy curb cuts, but the social and psychological barriers that draw attention to disabilities.

The experience gave students a new perspective on their major assignment, which was to develop guidelines and a design for residences for people with physical disabilities. In the future they hope contractors and architects will be able to use their program to create barrier-free structures.

Garrott said clients are becoming more interested in the welfare of the people who use their buildings, about whether or not offices are pleasant, efficient and match the capabilities of employees. They are also aware of lower insurance liabilities for accessible buildings.

Then too, he said, federal regulations have prompted clients and architects alike to consider new styles and approaches to design. Students found that if considered from day one, the extra construction costs could be held to between one half and three per cent.

Before they ever sat down at the drawing board, the design students painstakingly collected all the facts available about each room in their model residence. Recalling their wheelchair perspectives they considered what activities would take place in each room, as well as what social and psychological atmospheres would be suitable to the activities.

Garrott said that if the architect considers what a client/user wants and needs when he first works out his sketches, he has a much better chance of pleasing the customer.

"It's all a part of teaching students about the aspects of accountability," Garrott said, "We can't just pull out a 'cookbook' anymore and expect to pick out a ramp or a passageway that will meet some regulation. We need to begin to design barrier-free buildings the first time around."

With officials of Region V Mental Retardation Services, the design students developed a plan to do just that. Together they created a prototype for a culturally normative residence for disabled individuals.

Published this spring, the plan may become the resource book for Nebraskans who are constructing barrier-free residences.

In the meantime, Garrott's design class has taken up a new participatory design assignment. This fall students are assisting the officials of the Omaha Children's Museum in planning future exhibits.

This class is an example of the variety of special studio projects offered students in the College of Architecture. Nearly 430 undergraduates and 270 graduate students enrolled this fall as architecture majors, a five per cent increase over last year.

Four buildings house the three departments of: Architecture, Community and Regional Planning and the Community Resource and Research Center. The staff numbers 35.

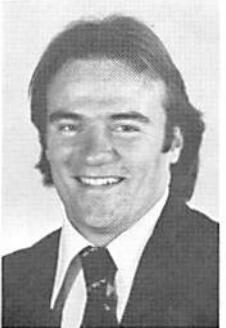

Dean W. Cecil Steward notes that this fall, for the first time, the college is participating in a professor exchange program. Al Quick will trade six weeks with an instructor from the College of Technology in Dublin, Ireland. Dean Steward says the swap is arranged so that the visiting professor can step right into the ongoing design program.

Also new to the college is a first year UNL Teaching Council grant, a pilot award announced last spring. With it, professors Thomas Laging and Frances Crabill are co-directing a study of creative teaching methods.
